

Three Star Books

Three Star Books was founded in the early twenty-first century by Christophe Boutin, Cornelia Lauf, and Melanie Scarciglia. Its goal is to publish handmade, luxuriously produced, limited book editions by the very finest contemporary artists. The term «book» is used loosely, as the objects often exceed the physical and conceptual parameters of book publishing. Highly crafted, hand-made, and produced with the finest globally-sourced materials, each creation is realized through the precise designs of its author in close editorial and design collaboration with Three Star Books.

A first publication was produced in Belgium, with Liam Gillick and M/M, Paris, under an earlier imprint.

Subsequent works have included «Fetish» by Heimo Zobernig, «Cattelan,» by Maurizio Cattelan, and «Holy Silence,» by Tobias Rehberger (Spring 2008).

Melanie Scarciglia is the publisher of Three Star Books, Cornelia Lauf the editor and Christophe Boutin manages the production.

Headquarters in Paris, with offices in Rome.

Mélanie Scarciglia: Publisher
Cornelia Lauf: Editor
Christophe Boutin: Production

Three Star Books
49, rue Albert
75013 Paris
France

info@threestarbooks.com
www.threestarbooks.com